How is it significant?

The Summerhill Estate Precinct is of local historical, architectural and aesthetic significance to the City of Boroondara.

Why is it significant?

The Summerhill Estate precinct is a tangible illustration of the rapid transformation of Glen Iris during the interwar period from an area of market gardens to a dense suburb. Subdivided in 1925, it was one of Boroondara's major interwar residential subdivisions. There was a small amount of infill development in the early post-war period, continuing the same styles and a similar palette of materials, creating a very cohesive area of development. (Criterion A)

It is closely linked with the nationally known estate agent, businessman and philanthropist, Thomas Burke, whose mark on the interwar suburbanisation of Boroondara and metropolitan Melbourne is exemplified by this subdivision. In Boroondara he is also remembered as a major benefactor of the Catholic Church and its institutions, gifting Burke Hall to the Jesuits as a preparatory school for Xavier College in 1920. (Criteria A & H)

The Summerhill Estate precinct contains many examples representing the principal domestic architectural styles of the late interwar and early post-war periods. Apart from a small number of California Bungalows from the late 1920s, there are many examples of the Interwar Mediterranean style, the Old English style and the Moderne/Art Deco style. These two later styles continued to be built just after the war in nearly identical forms and materials. Nearly all of them are built of masonry, some rendered or of stone, but the large majority built of face brick in colours ranging from red and clinker, to brown manganese and cream bricks. In keeping with the estate's covenant, house roofs were normally tiled. A large number of houses are enhanced by the retention of an original front fence, most of them of brick (face brick or rendered), with a smaller number retaining detached or attached garages built to match the house. The fences and regular front and side setbacks demonstrate the importance of the suburban garden setting for interwar development. (Criterion D)

32 Hortense Street (HO386) of 1938 is aesthetically significant as a distinctive example of the application of eclectic Tudor styling to a standard size two-storey 1930s Melbourne residence. Designed by experienced residential practitioner, architect Leslie Reed, it is a confident composition which is distinguished by a combination of Medieval and Tudor references and its varied and richly applied external materials. Though altered through the construction of rear additions, the principal street presentation of the building remains generally unaltered and the property retains its original fence and a sympathetic garden setting. (Criterion E)

1 Montana Street (HO393) of 1941 is architecturally and aesthetically significant as is a fine and relatively intact example of the glazed brick, parapet-roofed and conspicuously modern houses which appeared in Boroondara after c. 1937. The house is an assured and successful composition, using its corner siting well and incorporating a series of interesting building forms and materials. It is distinctive for the extensive use of glazed manganese brick to all facades. It is also of some significance for its planning, specifically in its articulation of a bi-nuclear plan. (Criteria D & E)
