1 Introduction and overview

1.1 Purpose

The purpose of this report is to present the findings and recommendations of the Heritage Action Plan Review 2023.

1.2 Brief overview

The Heritage Action Plan 2016 (HAP 2016), is an adopted council-wide plan structured around a list of actions related to heritage matters. The HAP is based on a 5-year implementation period, after which a review is to be undertaken.

2021 marked the 5-year timeframe for review of the HAP, however as key actions (comprising the Municipal-Wide Heritage Gap Study) had not been completed at the time, the review was postponed until 2022.

After completion of all key actions in late 2022, the review of the HAP commenced.

The review report comprises;

1. An audit of all actions noted under the HAP 2016, to identify actions completed, in progress or not commenced.
2. An analysis of how, why and which actions were/were not completed.
3. A benchmarking of heritage plans/strategies adopted by other councils, and;
4. Consideration of Boroondara's future heritage needs.

2 Background

2.1 Heritage work program planning

2.1.1 Pre-2012

Prior to 2012, Council's heritage work program comprised the preparation of either geographic or theme-based heritage studies, mostly in an uncoordinated way. This included numerous heritage studies and reviews throughout the 1990s (including pre-amalgamation) and the early 2000s. In many cases study recommendations were only partially implemented due to budget and resourcing constraints or political decisions.

In 2011, Council's Strategic Planning Department undertook a comprehensive audit of past heritage studies to fully understand the scope of those studies and the extent of their implementation. At the same time, the Boroondara Thematic Environmental History (TEH) was prepared, which documents the City's history of development and how that has shaped its look and feel. This provided a strong framework for future identification and protection of places under relevant themes identified in the TEH.

The key finding was that Council's heritage planning, management and promotional work lacked strategic focus and would benefit from greater coordination.

To address these issues, the first Heritage Action Plan was prepared and adopted in September 2012.

2.1.2 Heritage Action Plan 2012

The aim of the HAP 2012 was to guide Council's heritage work program, particularly as it related to the identification, protection, management and promotion of the City's heritage assets.

The HAP 2012 identified and prioritised key recommendations including:

- Suburb-wide heritage studies with the aim of closing gaps in the City's Heritage Overlays
- Assessment of individual properties
- Heritage interpretation
- Design guidelines
- Staff training
- Heritage grants program
- Access to heritage information

Implementation of the HAP 2012 was progressed around the annual budget process and comprised proactive heritage assessments of places and precincts (based on the priorities identified) and reactive assessments of places under threat of demolition.

However, the re-active assessment system proved to be highly resource intensive and ineffective as it resulted in very few places being protected. Largely this was due to a lack of support from the Minister for Planning for the ad-hoc approach to heritage planning. Specifically, the Minister advised that it was inappropriate to "continuously use the Minister's powers under Section 20(4) for all buildings of possible heritage significance", as this would set a low standard for requests for interim heritage controls. In turn, this could result in dozens of additional requests per year and impose a significant resourcing and financial burden on Boroondara City Council.

Based on the Minister's advice, officers identified the need for a proactive program of heritage studies, which would change the way the identification and preservation of heritage places would be undertaken.

Overall, implementation of the HAP 2012 was limited to identification and protection of heritage places with no resource capacity or budget allocated to advance other actions relating to heritage interpretation, drafting of design guidelines, staff training and promotion.

2.1.3 Heritage Action Plan 2016

In response to the issues identified in implementing the HAP 2012, the Strategic Planning Department recommended the commencement of a comprehensive and proactive municipal-wide heritage study.

To provide the overarching coordinated work program and prioritisation, an updated HAP was prepared.

Adopted in May 2016, the updated HAP was based on the following 4 key themes, in accordance with Heritage Victoria's *Local Government Heritage Strategies Information Guide 2012*¹ (Attachment 2);

- Knowing - identification, assessment and documentation of heritage places
- Protecting - statutory protection, policy development, appropriate management
- Supporting - assistance, advice and incentives to help conserve heritage places
- Communicating and Promoting - measures to raise awareness and promote the heritage of the area.

The HAP 2016 identified the following key recommendations:

- Suburb-wide heritage studies - Complete and implement heritage reviews and gap studies for all of Boroondara's suburbs in order to close the gaps in the City's heritage overlays.
- Assessment of individual properties - Develop a program of proactive heritage assessments of potentially individually significant properties while the suburb-wide studies and associated planning scheme amendments are in progress.
- Heritage interpretation - Prepare a Heritage Interpretation and Communications Strategy to guide Council's program of interpretive signs, plaques, walks and other promotional activities.
- Design guidelines - Prepare a consolidated set of heritage design guidelines to assist planning permit applicants.
- Staff training - Implement internal training about heritage conservation and the City's Indigenous and European history.
- Heritage grants - Develop a trial heritage grants program for minor restoration works to commercial heritage properties.
- Access to heritage information - Improve access to information about the City's history and heritage places via Council's website and, potentially, through mobile technologies.

Regarding resource allocation, funding was provided over a 5-year program to deliver the Municipal-Wide Heritage Gap Study and for general heritage advisory services related to the identification and protection of heritage places (as distinct from the budget allocated for a heritage adviser to consider planning permit applications).

No additional funding was allocated to other actions which were to be delivered within existing resource allocations (including staff).

Similar to the implementation of the previous HAP (2012), the preparation and implementation of heritage studies took up the majority of staff resourcing, and the implementation of other actions was generally incidental or covered through business-as-usual operations.

2.1.3.1 HAP 2016 - Actions

The HAP 2016 comprised a list of 51 actions based on the following prioritisation:

- 5 actions rated “Very High” (VH) priority;
- 5 actions rated “High” (H) priority, and;
- 41 actions rated “Ongoing/As Required” (OAR)

Responsibility for delivery of each action was allocated to a particular Council Department or Team.

All Very High and High priority actions related to the preparation and implementation of the Municipal-Wide Heritage Gap Study.

2.1.3.2 HAP 2016 - Timeframe and review

The HAP 2016 provided a structure for 5 years, based on the estimated completion timeframe for the Municipal-Wide Heritage Gap Study (Gap Study), with a review initially scheduled for 2021 (following expected completion of the Gap Study).

As the ten highest priority (Very High and High) actions in the HAP 2016 comprised the Gap Study the review was delayed from 2021 pending the completion of the Gap Study in 2022.

Following the completion of the Gap Study in late 2022 with the approval of the Glen Iris Heritage Gap Study, this review was undertaken by the Strategic Planning Team.

3 Policy context

3.1 Boroondara Community Plan 2021-2031

The Boroondara Community Plan is a 10-year vision which incorporates the Community Vision, Council Plan 2021-25 and Municipal Public Health and Wellbeing Plan 2021-25.

Heritage is noted as key element of pride for our municipality and forms a key theme of the Plan.

Strategic objective 4: Neighbourhood Character and Heritage contains the following strategies of relevance

- 4.1 - Boroondara's heritage places are protected through ongoing implementation of heritage protection controls in the Boroondara Planning Scheme
- 4.2 - The history of Boroondara's heritage places is respected and celebrated through community education.

3.2 Boroondara Planning Scheme

Heritage is addressed in several places in the Boroondara Planning Scheme. The Planning Scheme provides concrete regulations relating to the protection of, and works that may impact, heritage places.

Under the Municipal Planning Strategy, Clause 02.03-4 includes the strategic directions to 'protect all individual places, objects and precincts of cultural, aboriginal, urban and landscape significance'.

The objective of Clause 15.03-1S 'Heritage Conservation', is 'to ensure conservation of places of heritage significance'.

Clause 15.03-1L 'Heritage in Boroondara' also denotes more specific technical objectives for the preservation of heritage places in the municipality.

3.3 Municipal Heritage Strategies: A Guide for Councils

This guide prepared by Heritage Victoria (Attachment 2) assists local councils draft their own heritage strategies and plans. It is not a policy document but is intended as a toolkit for Councils to address the key themes of:

- Knowing (identification, assessment and documentation of heritage places)
- Protecting (statutory protection, policy development, appropriate management)
- Supporting (assistance, advice and incentives to help conserve heritage places)
- Communicating and promoting (measures to raise awareness and appreciation of the heritage of the area)

The guide also provides a heritage strategy template with a general structure noting that the strategy should focus on identifying key gaps and need within the municipality and to direct resources to these areas.

4 Review of the Heritage Action Plan 2016

4.1 Methodology

The review of the Heritage Action Plan 2016 comprised 3 stages;

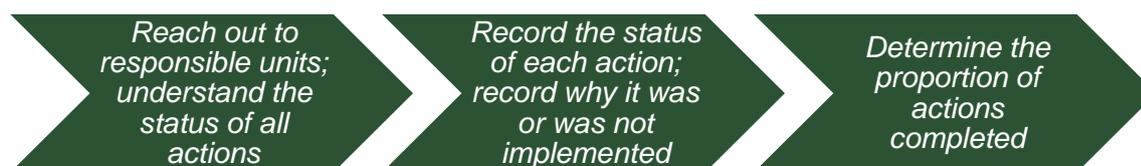

- Stage 1 - Action Audit
- Stage 2 - Analysis
- Stage 3 - Future Needs

Stage 1 - Action Audit

The audit of the HAP 2016 was undertaken in late 2022 and involved a comprehensive review of all actions listed in the HAP.

Feedback was sought from all Council departments and units that had responsibility for the delivery of particular actions. Staff in relevant departments and units were asked to advise whether the relevant action had been completed, commenced, were ongoing/continuous or had not been started.

The responses received generally provided a good overview of the status of relevant actions and included qualitative information such as action completion dates, reasons for actions not commencing (e.g. resourcing and budget constraints, lack of awareness).

The full HAP action audit is provided at Appendix 1. The key outcomes and statistics regarding the action audit are addressed in Chapter 4 below.

As mentioned earlier, the HAP 2016 contained a list of 51 actions. These were categorised by priority, with;

- 5 actions rated “Very High” (VH) priority;
- 5 actions rated “High” (H) priority, and;
- 41 actions rated “Ongoing/As Required” (OAR)

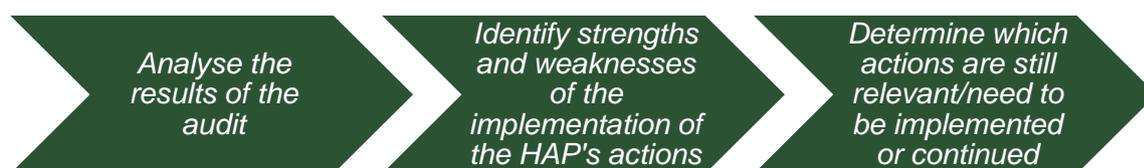

The Strategic Planning Department was responsible for the delivery of all 10 of the Very High and High priority items. Most of the Ongoing/As Required actions were also delegated to a single responsible department.

However, several of the 41 “Ongoing/As Required” actions (excluding the omitted OAR 25) were delegated to multiple units, resulting in a total of 54 action/responsible department pairings (e.g. OAR 6, relating to the heritage significance of bluestone laneways, was delegated to both Strategic Planning and Infrastructure Services).

Stage 2 - Analysis

Building on the quantitative audit stage, the analysis comprised a qualitative review of the HAP implementation progress and considered implications for a future action plan.

This stage aimed to identify strengths and weaknesses of the HAP implementation, identify barriers to the implementation of outstanding actions and understand the continuing relevance of these actions.

Stage 3 - Future Needs

Stage 3 aimed to draw the key conclusions from the quantitative and qualitative review of the actions in the context of the emerging trends. This will be used to set a clear direction for how heritage matters should be guided into the future and how heritage work program is set.

5 Review outcomes

5.1 Action Audit

The audit assessed all 51 actions to understand the status of each. Figure 1 below summarises the audit outcomes with the following key findings:

- All 10 Very High priority and High priority actions relating to the Municipal-Wide Heritage have been completed.
- 73% of Ongoing/As Required actions have been either completed or are ongoing/underway (30 out of 41).
- 27% of Ongoing/As Required actions have not been commenced or are unclear (11 out of 41 actions).

Action Category	No. of Actions	Completed	Ongoing/ Underway	Not Undertaken or Unclear
Very High Priority (VH):	5	5 (100%)	-	-
High Priority (H):	5	5 (100%)	-	-
Ongoing/As Required (OAR):	41	4 (10%)	26 (63%)	11 (27%)
Total HAP Actions	51	40 (78%)		11 (22%)

5.2 Analysis

Examining the outcomes of the audit, the analysis sought to identify where the HAP 2016 had performed well, where it had not delivered and the barriers or issues that prevented delivery of particular actions.

This was undertaken to improve council's understanding of which actions should be continued from the Heritage Action Plan 2016, as well as plan for potential issues that could impact the effectiveness of any future heritage strategy.

5.2.1 Successes - where did the HAP 2016 do well?

The HAP 2016 was able to effectively deliver all key goals, namely the 10 Very High and High priority actions. These items comprised the Gap Study, which was undertaken by Strategic Planning from 2016 to 2022.

The Gap Study was a hugely significant, comprehensive and critical piece of work for Boroondara, resulting in over 5,000 additional properties being included in the Heritage Overlay. Well-funded with a significant budget ($1.3 million for heritage consultants, plus recurring budget for staff wages and panel representation) and resourcing, the Gap Study was the key focus of the Strategic Planning unit for 6 years. The Gap Study culminated in the completion of its final volume - for the suburb of Glen Iris - in late 2022.

Further to the key Gap Study actions, 30 out of 41 Ongoing/As Required actions have been completed/started (approximately 73% of the Ongoing/As Required actions).

5.2.2 Shortcomings - where did the HAP 2016 not deliver?

While all Very High and High priority actions were completed, 10 actions rated as Ongoing/As Required were not commenced by their responsible unit, and the status of 1 action was unclear due to its broad scope (OAR 25).

It is also important to note that the reason for lack of commencement of many actions related to the action becoming irrelevant during the 5-year HAP timeframe, or the action requiring a specific trigger for it to be implemented, which has not occurred yet.

In other cases, actions were not commenced due to other limitations, including a lack of awareness of the HAP/specific action, or a lack of budget/resourcing.

The table below (Figure 2) shows all actions from the HAP 2016, as paired with a responsible unit, that have not been commenced. It provides an outline of the action, and an explanation for the lack of commencement, plus a recommendation for the action's relevance in any future heritage plan. In summary, of the actions (as paired with responsible units) that were not undertaken;

- 2 actions were no longer required (to be discarded from future heritage plans, as they were assessed as no longer being relevant).

- 6 actions were still relevant and remain to be addressed by any future heritage strategy/plan (4 of these being duplicated across multiple units).
- 3 actions were still generally relevant but would require further investigation and consideration before a recommendation can be made to include the action in any future heritage strategy/plan.

Note that tree controls exist and are always considered as part of applications. A thematic study requires budgetary changes. Assessment of trees on private land is ongoing on private and public land as it arises. Also undertaken as part of the MWHGS (Gap Study). This action should be considered moving forward, however a lower priority given Council already has the Tree Protection Local Law.	Further investigation required to determine inclusion in any future heritage plan

Precinct citations cover all properties therein. Individually significant properties have their own citations. For places recently and currently being included in the Heritage Overlay, if an Individually Significant place within a precinct provides the precinct with an extra criterion, that is noted in the Statement of Significance for the precinct. This is in accordance with Planning Practice Note 1 (PPN1). However, for places included in the Heritage Overlay under earlier	Exclude action from any future heritage plan

		studies, Statements of Significance were not adopted as separate documents. In the event an individually significant place from an earlier heritage study would require the preparation of a Statement of Significance, this would require a review of the whole precinct citation as part of a planning scheme amendment. Figure 2 - All outstanding actions, reason for not being undertaken and recommendation going forward. Note: multiple units have been delegated responsibility of OARs 24, 32, 35 and 37.

5.2.3 Why were some actions not undertaken?

As evident in Figure 2, provided in the review feedback were several reasons for actions not being undertaken. These comprised:

- Action is no longer relevant - The action was no longer relevant due to policy changes, or the action has been addressed through other means.
 - Example: OAR 16 - “Undertake regular information sessions / training with relevant Council staff about the requirements of the Aboriginal Heritage Act 2006”, was deemed no longer relevant as it only applies to those staff designated as an ‘Aboriginal Heritage Officer’ (Aboriginal Heritage Act 2006).
- Future need that hasn’t arisen yet - The action was intended to respond to a future need with a particular trigger, which has not occurred.
 - Example: OAR 20 - Prepare Incorporated Plans for public and privately owned heritage places as need arises”, was not undertaken as the trigger was to be implemented on an as-needs basis.
- Resource/budget constraints - The action cannot be completed within existing resources and operating budget and would therefore require priority budget allocation which has not been requested or allocated.
- Lack of awareness - The Council Department/Team identified as responsible for delivery was not aware of the Heritage Action Plan 2016 or was not aware of the particular action.

5.2.4 Which outstanding actions are still relevant?

9 of the actions from the HAP 2016 that were not undertaken were assessed as still being relevant in any future heritage plan, or as requiring further investigation to determine their future relevance. These actions relate to:

- Preparing incorporated plans for heritage places as needed (OAR 20)

- Assisting historical societies with promotion, grants and volunteering (OAR 24)
- Ensure heritage conservation is considered when Council policies and plans are produced (OAR 25)
- Engaging a heritage expert to deliver staff training (OAR 32)
- Trialling a heritage grants program for minor restoration works (OAR 33)
- Developing an archival conservation strategy (OAR 35)
- Organising interpretive walks along the Yarra River corridor (OAR 37)
- Preparing a thematic study of parks, gardens and trees (OAR 38)
- Preparing a thematic study of community facilities subsequent to the Gap Study (OAR 39)

The relationship between these outstanding actions and the four key strategic directions articulated under Heritage Victoria's Municipal Heritage Strategies Guide for Councils (Attachment 2) primarily relate to supporting, promoting and celebrating heritage (OARs 24, 33, 35 and 37). Relevance to knowing and protecting heritage generally applies only to OAR 20, and this does not relate to proactive heritage assessments of vulnerable areas (as these were completed under the Gap Study).

5.3 Analysis summary

All Very High and High priority actions (the Municipal-Wide Heritage Gap Study) have also been completed.

Of the 10 Ongoing/As Required actions that were not undertaken, only 5 actions were not undertaken due to a lack of budget or awareness. The need for most of the outstanding actions had simply not yet arisen (as the action's implementation was/is dependent on a particular trigger).

Based on this, it can be established that the Heritage Action Plan 2016 has delivered the overwhelming majority of what it set out to deliver.

What the HAP has not delivered, primarily comprises actions that relate to supporting, promoting and celebrating heritage.

Where the HAP did not deliver, the reason mostly related to a lack of budget or a lack of awareness across departments.

What this means for Boroondara, is that future heritage planning needs a shift in direction, moving from a focus on identification and preservation, towards a focus on promoting and celebrating our heritage. The delivery of this through a heritage strategy would more effectively facilitate budget allocation to departments as required, as well hold greater awareness as a council-wide strategy.

6 Future needs

6.1 Key future implications

Based on the above review and its findings, the following key future directions have been identified.

- Targeted heritage identification and protection
 - With the Gap Study complete and the majority of other heritage actions addressed or ongoing, there is a diminishing need to prioritise further work to identify places of possible heritage significance. Identification and preservation work will still be undertaken, but with a reduced scope and will largely be managed under the recently adopted Community Heritage Nomination Process.
 - Following the conclusion of the Gap Study, it should be recognised that the same successes are not repeatable. The comprehensive Gap Study was hugely successful and while some places may have been missed and remain unprotected, these are significantly less common.
 - Remaining places of potential heritage value are also more contentious cases where the significance is not as evident and are open to challenge. This is demonstrated by recent refusals of authorisation or interim Heritage Overlay request by the Department of Transport and Planning, as well as proposed places not being recommended for inclusion in the Heritage Overlay at the Panel stage.
 - This results in a significant cost detriment to the department, constricts the ability for Strategic Planning staff to focus on other projects and also creates undue financial and emotional stress for owners.

- Increased focus on and resourcing for heritage promotion and engagement
 - There is an increasing need to diversify the ownership of the large amount of heritage work undertaken by Council. Once places are included under the Heritage Overlay, more work needs to be done to ensure the wider community appreciates and interacts with the heritage. This is a key part of Heritage Victoria's Local Government Heritage Strategies Information Guide (see Sections 2.1.3 and 3.0 for more information).
 - It is also clear, that most outstanding actions relate directly to supporting, promoting and celebrating our heritage. The tasks ascribed by these actions required the ownership and action of units and departments outside of the planning and were not commenced due to budget and resourcing constraints.
 - Community demands to strengthen and diversify Council's heritage activities. In recent years, Strategic Planning have noticed a greater level of expectation on Council to be more active in promoting heritage and educating the broader community on heritage matters. Apart from customer interactions and correspondence this emerging trend is also reflected in submissions to the 2022-23 Council Budget. As part of the public consultation process 10 submitters requested expanded heritage services that include a designated heritage team that expands beyond the core function of strategic planning including greater engagement with the community to raise awareness of and appreciation for our heritage.

- Creating greater cross-council ownership and action

- The review identified the general lack of awareness around the HAP beyond the Strategic Planning Team as one of the key issues. Education and promotion require a different skill set to the preparation and implementation of heritage studies. Moving forward it is therefore critical that the HAP has cross-organisational ownership rather than being seen as a strategic planning document. Other Council departments and teams (such as Capital Projects or Customer and Communication) will need to be much more engaged and have greater understanding and ownership of the next iteration of the HAP.

These key implications are most appropriately addressed not through an updated action plan developed by the Strategic Planning Team (which has so far had the greatest ownership of the last two iterations of the HAP) but a broader heritage strategy. This will be discussed in the following chapter.

6.2 Developing a heritage strategy

6.2.1 Benchmarking with other local government areas

Several other councils have adopted heritage strategies or action plans. A review of those has been undertaken to get a better understanding on best-practice approaches and provide a solid structure for Boroondara to base its strategy upon. The following councils were identified as having heritage strategies or action plans, and having similarities to Boroondara in terms of geography and approximate eras of development:

- Melbourne
- Stonnington
- Yarra
- Bayside
- Merri-bek (formerly Moreland)

In addition, the municipalities of Banyule, Nillumbik, Melton, Casey and Whittlesea have adopted heritage strategies, and Greater Dandenong, Maroondah, Whitehorse and Maribyrnong having adopted heritage action plans or heritage plans incorporated into broader cultural strategies. These are all based around the Heritage Victoria guidelines (outlined in Figure 3).

A pattern of similar timeframes, key actions, themes and desired outcomes across the different strategies has informed what would likely be integrated within a Boroondara Heritage Strategy. These are outlined in the table below (Figure 3).

Timeframes for a Heritage Strategy

Heritage strategies adopted by Melbourne, Stonnington and Yarra ranged between 10 and 15-year timeframes. The significant heritage action plans adopted by Bayside and Merri-bek are both 15-year plans. Action plans contained within the strategies have shorter, 4-year progress review timeframes.

A heritage strategy generally covers a longer timeframe, with action plans addressing shorter timeframes (10-15 years vs 5 years).

Key strategic directions for a Heritage Strategy

Key themes have been echoed across the heritage strategies adopted by Melbourne, Stonnington and Yarra, which are based on the four key strategic directions articulated under Heritage Victoria's Municipal Heritage Strategies Guide for Councils, which are;

- Knowing our heritage
- Protecting our heritage
- Supporting our heritage, and;
- Promoting and celebrating our heritage

Comparable municipalities have used variations of these key strategic directions.

The City of Melbourne provides the following key strategic directions;

- Knowing our heritage
- Protecting our heritage
- Managing our heritage
- Communicating and celebrating

The City of Stonnington provides the following key strategic directions;

- Identifying and managing our heritage into the future
- Assembling and managing our extensive range of heritage information
- Reviewing and developing new strategies for protecting our heritage, and;
- Celebrating local heritage with the community and other stakeholders.

The City of Yarra takes its key strategic directions directly from Heritage Victoria, namely;

- Knowing

- Protecting and managing
- Supporting
- Promoting and celebrating

Developing a Heritage Strategy

The development of heritage strategies adopted by Melbourne, Stonnington and Yarra were informed by a variety of internal and external heritage policies and documents.

The external documents/policies included:

- The Burra Charter
- Planning and Environment Act 1987
- Heritage Act 2017
- Aboriginal Heritage Act 2006
- Planning Practice Note 1: 'Applying the Heritage Overlay'
- Plan Melbourne 2017-2050
- HERCON Criteria
- Heritage Victoria documents, including;
 - Local Government Heritage Strategies (2010)
 - Victoria's heritage: strengthening our communities (2006)

For Boroondara, part of the process would also involve consideration of existing internal Council documents and policies, including;

- Boroondara Community Plan
- Bluestone Policy 2010
- Boroondara Community Strengthening Grants Policy - December 2020
- Community Engagement Policy
- Library Collection Development Policy
- Library Services Plan 2020-2025
- Climate Action Plan
- Economic Development and Tourism Strategy 2016-2021

Further future/proposed documents and policies to be considered include;

- Boroondara Housing Strategy
- Community Heritage Nomination Process

Ownership of a Heritage Strategy

Heritage strategies adopted by Melbourne, Stonnington and Yarra had varied ownership.

- The City of Melbourne strategy was broad-based, with no specific ownership delegated to an individual unit.
- The City of Stonnington strategy was broad-based, with no specific ownership delegated to an individual unit.
- The City of Yarra strategy specified responsibility across all departments generally, however primary oversight was delegated to the Senior Advisor City Heritage (a heritage-specific position at the City of Yarra)

6.2.2 Why is a heritage strategy needed?

The development of a broader Boroondara heritage strategy provides an opportunity to set a cross-organisational framework on heritage matters for the next 10 to 15 years. As per the Heritage Victoria Guide (Attachment 2) on drafting heritage strategies, it will allow Council to identify the key gaps and heritage-related needs and develop a whole-of-Council strategy (including relevant actions) to address these.

As this review has identified the main needs and gaps - supporting (policy improvements, guidelines development), communicating and promoting (raising awareness and appreciation through non-planning related activities and initiatives) - a more thorough, council-wide approach is required.

Such a strategy must be less strategic-planning focussed (noting that identification and protection of heritage places will continue through specifically funded heritage studies, community heritage nomination process and possibly review of existing heritage areas) and instead have cross-Council ownership from many internal stakeholders. Actions will need to expand beyond heritage identification and protection to respond to the identified needs.

Development of a best-practice heritage strategy (including the allocation of resourcing to ensure its delivery) will allow Council to take leadership on heritage matters and result in better heritage outcomes for our community. It will provide the opportunity to set goals and aspirations for Council and the community to ensure our built heritage is not just protected, but also appreciated more broadly within the community into the future, and that residents and visitors can learn more about it.

6.2.3 Development and structure of a future Boroondara Heritage Strategy

The development and implementation of a Heritage Strategy would provide a comprehensive framework for Boroondara's heritage needs going forward. As noted above, for the strategy to succeed, council-wide ownership will be critical, with primary ownership resting with the Strategic Planning unit.

Strategic Planning would take the lead role in coordinating the development of the strategy, engaging other departments/units in the process, running steering committees and working groups and undertaking reviews of the strategy. This work would be undertaken by the proposed Principal Heritage Planner role, subject to budgetary approval.

It is important to note that for a heritage strategy to operate successfully and deliver what Boroondara needs, it must have significant ownership and buy-in from other relevant departments. This includes budget allocation to other departments to complete relevant works under a heritage strategy.

7 Summary

The review of Boroondara's Heritage Action Plan 2016 has found that implementation has been largely successful with most actions (and all Very High and High priority actions) completed or being delivered on an ongoing basis. Key findings demonstrate the dependency on budget and resource allocations to deliver actions. Where resources were not specifically allocated, actions were not completed.

Furthermore, it has shown that outstanding actions relate primarily to supporting, promoting and celebrating our heritage and sit with diverse units across Council. The HAP 2016 has largely been a document owned and delivered by the Strategic Planning Department and with less focus on identification and protection of places through the Heritage Overlay (due to diminishing returns), wider involvement from other appropriate departments is needed.

A heritage strategy would provide this new approach, modelled on other comparable councils. A heritage strategy allows for a broader, more informed policy base, to ensure the entire organisation is on board with the focal shift from identifying and preserving heritage, to promoting and celebrating it.

To ensure cross-Council ownership and coordination, it is recommended that the development of a 10 to 15-year heritage strategy to set the overarching framework for the management of heritage in Boroondara be commenced. This will allow more coordinated work programming with different departments being able to account for projects as part of their respective annual business planning. While the Strategic Planning Team can lead the development, it requires significant input from a whole range of internal (and external) stakeholders expanding beyond the key function of strategic planning.
